Tennis is an Olympic sport, but was withdrawn from the 1924 games and did not return until 60 years later. Originally, professional players were not permitted to compete in the major tournaments. But there were rumors that amateurs were accepting money while they were playing. To solve the problem, all players were permitted to compete in all tournaments. This enabled the best players to earn money from playing games. This also made it possible for tennis to have a larger audience. Today, tennis games are played on a variety of different courts including grass courts, hard courts, and clay courts.

25. Why were all players permitted to compete in all tournaments?

- 1 Because there were rumors that amateurs were accepting money while they were playing.
- 2 Because there were rumors that professional players were accepting money while they were playing.
- 3 Because only the best players could earn money.
